FORWORD

TO

MIESEN FAMILY TREE

"An honest pedigree, however unambititious, though without pretence to nobility, may warm its owner's heart, make him hold his head higher and feel himself the heir of a great tradition."

"To be aware that one is an "heir", has continuity with the past, and is, as it were, a link between that past and the future gives one a sense of belonging, of being a part of God's plan of history, however humble ones's progenitors may have been. Even though an ancestor here or there in the family tree may have been licentious or profligate, a horse thief or a scoundrel, a criminal or a conviot, one can always be thankful that such were exceptions in the family who, in spite of their personal propensities or uncontrolled appetites(and,in some instances, the forces of circumstances which surrounded them), failed to break the continuity of the family, however much they may appear to be abnormal growths in one of its branches. In contrast, the rest of the ancestral line stands worthy and reliable, and the descendants may take justifiable pride in the fact that they have conquered the tendencies which, for a brief space, got out of control, and have done their part to restore the family to wholesomeness.

"In deepest appreciation to Lloyd E. Miesen, Sr. who originally started the very first family tree, and researched the early history of the Miesen Family.

Several years ago I decided to complete more fully the work Lloyd had started.

His continued perseverence and didication has led this work to conclusion. I sincerely hope that one of you will undertake this venture, and never permit it to lie dormant.

Stephen Barthel of Minnesapolis, Minn. and presently a student at B.Y.U. in Provo, Utah is to be commended highly for his interest and research in Germany and his study of microfilms in the Morman Files in their Library in Salt Lake City.

Without the assistance of the above named men, the task would have been overwhelming.

I wish also to sincerely thank all who contributed by providing me with dates and name in their families. Without their cooperat on it would have been impossible to complete the work as far as we have been able to do.

We have proveded blank pages in the back of the book for any additions you may wish to add.

SINCERELY,

Tom Baker

PETER MIESEN

July 19, 1795 - March 14, 1869

The town or village of Eppenberg today has a population of 300 to 400. At Peter's time in 1847, when he left, the population was 200 to 250.

Peter's father Johann and his grandfather were farmers.

We know that Peter owned land because the diary of his son Hubert records the sale of the farm by Mattias, Peter's oldest son.

Peter's wife was Elizabeth Lambrich, born December 1, 1798. They were married September 6, 1821.

Peter was the 6th child of a family of 10. He had 3 brothers who lived to maturity.

Peter and his oldest son, Matthias, were the last of the Miesens to live in Eppenberg. John Joseph, 10th child, born January 1, 1808 and his brother Mattias, 4th child, moved to Masburg. Masburg is 4 kilometers from Eppenberg.

In 1934 my wife Irene and I visited Matthias Miesen (No. 105), youngest son of Mattias (No. 18) oldest son of Peter. He was an old man at that time.

He told us of his visit to my father's home in Perry, Illinois when they were 18 years old and of their later meeting when my father and sister, Hazel, visited him and his family in Fond du Lac many years later (about 1916).

Matthias (No. 105) told me all he knew about his grandfather Peter and gave me an old picture of him. This interested me and I promised him I would gather all the information I could and give it to any Miesen who was interested.

All the relatives I have met are interested and I have talked to many of them who knew nothing of the circumstances of who brought the family to America or when they came or why.

As our information was so meager, I put off assembling the information that I did have. The time consumed in raising a family and operating my business has kept me busy nine and ten hours per day, six days a week most of my life. However, I must say that I could have found the time had I really made up my mind to do so. There is nothing, in reason, one cannot do if he really makes up his mind.

Now twenty years after talking to that wonderful old man and his good natured wife, I have finally, after much talk and no production, decide to give you all I have of the information of this Old Pioneer and his five sons. One of his sons, Hubert (No. 20) wrote in his notebook or diary this little prayer:

Thou art, O God, the light and life
Of all this wondrous world we see.

Perhaps you have information to add to what I have, or corrections to what I have set down. If you will send it to me or pictures I will see that the amendments are made and all receive copies of the pictures and the original is returned to you.

We can hand this to our children and they can carry it on from there.

It is my hope that this will be of interest to you.

Sincerely yours,
Lloyd E. Miesen

The first Miesen of our family to immigrate to the United Sates was Peter Miesen (No. 8), born in Eppenberg, Germany, July 18, 1795. He died at Mount Calvary Wisconsin, which is near Fond du Lac, Wisconsin. Died March 14, 1869.

He is buried at the Mount Calvary Cemetery in the churchyard of the Catholic Capuchin Monastery. The grave marked by a black oaken cross which lies just beyond the entrance to the cemetery on the right. The grave of his sons, Matthias and M.J. Miesen are also there in that cemetery, as are many of the later Miesens.

Before he immigrated to America in 1847 to Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin, he lived on his farm at Eppenberg, a small town fifty miles from Bingham on the Rhine and 25 miles from Coblentz, near Miesenheim, which is between the Rhine and Mosel rivers. One of his uncles was killed in the Napoleonic War, on Napoleon's retreat from Moscow.

My wife Irene and I visited the Rheinland in Germany in 1957. We traveled down the Rhine River by boat from Mainz to Coblenz, a city of about 60,000. The Hamlet of Eppenberg is 25 miles S.W. of Coblenz between the Mosel and Rhine Rivers.

Eppenberg is a small hamlet of farm homes. The barn and chicken house, tool wagon and family home are all in one building. Each family owned land somewhere near the village.

We went directly to the burgermeister's home. We was not there but his wife invited us in to look through the town record book. We found only one entry which recorded the fact that Matthias had worked on the road to pay his road tax in 1847. She then directed us to go to Masburg, a somewhat larger village --where a Mattias Miesen (No. 79) lived. The Parish Church (St. Laurentines) is located in Masburg. When we arrived there we were directed to Matthias' home where we met his wife, grown son and daughter, about 10 years old. The wife was very friendly and interested when we explained who we were and where we were from. She must have directed the daughter to inform her father about the time church was out, of our presence. When the father and his son came in, they were quite excited as the daughter had not been able to explain who the strangers were. After our interpreter explained, he was very friendly and sent the son down to the basement for a bottle of wine he said he was saving for a special occasion. Matthias explained that his father had been quite well off financially before World War I but lost everything in the great inflation period following the war.

By the beginning of World War II, they had a good start again but lost it after the defeat of Germany. Matthias is a tailor by trade. (Their kitchen was equipped with an electric range and refrigerator.) He no doubt does his tailor work in his own home. We sat around the dining table which was in the kitchen and the interpreter translated the family history that I had brought along.

The family names mentioned in the letters written home and recorded in Hubert's diary were familiar to those whose descendants of families are still living in the area.

 We informed Matthias that we would like to look into the Records of the Church for recorded information of the Miesen family. We were introduced to Father Weber, parish priest of St. Laurentines Church. Father Weber refused to take money for the work this would entail but did accept a donation given to the church, as they were quite hard pressed for funds in 1957.

Matthias' father had died a few months prior to our visit in May. He stated that his father could have informed us a great deal about the Miesens. We also paid a visit to Matthias' mother, who was very much interested and showed us around hear neat little home and produced various letters, etc., which she felt we would be interested in seeing.

It developed later after the tracing of the various ancestors, that Matthias' mother's grandmother had been a sister of her husband's (Johan Miesen No. 49) grandfather, something they were not aware of.

 On our way back to Coblentz we had lunch in the little town of Mayan. We noticed that the steeple of the church, which dominated every other building in town, was twisted and bent somewhat like a piece of taffy candy. The story is as follows: (The dates of these happenings are of course unknown, but originated several hundred years ago.)

> The Devil was unhappy about the number of souls he had received as his share from this town, so he called on the Priest of the Church and after much wrangling and further negotiations, he left an ultimatum with the Priest that the first soul crossing the threshold of the church, that soul must be his. To cope with this serious threat the Priest pushed a donkey across the threshold that very day. The Devil was of course infuriated and the faithful on the way to Mass next morning were horrified to see the steeple of their Cathedral badly twisted; no doubt, so it is said, done in retaliation by the Devil for the hoax the Priest was able to put over on him. It is also said God's will has preserved the steeple, intact and sturdy these many years, as an example that no matter the circumstances, good will prevails over evil.

Our guide and interpreter then circled to the west on our way back to Coblentz, through the little town of Miesenheim, a quaint city of approximately 7,000.

There was hardly a straight running street in town and was, besides being narrow, paved with the so-called Belgium Cobble Stone (stone brick larger than ordinary clay brick.) The people of the city manufacture lime and plaster and probably cement since World War II and they have been very prosperous because of the rebuilding of the German cites bombed during the war. We also saw the open pits around the edge of the town where the limestone is quarried. It was Sunday and we were not able to accomplish much although now, I wish we had returned the next day. This town is no doubt the original home of the Miesen family. Miesenheim - Miesen home. The name Miesen has a meaning, probably in the Latin version of the German language. Many of the families of this district, including some members of the Miesens, are darker complexioned. John Hueter (No. 66) on our Chart, was a student of the origin of the German Peoples. He told me one interesting story he found in an old German treatise of the subject of a Rhineland Queen in the 12th century.

> At that time the Turks (Mohammedans) were invading Europe via the Southeast. They got as far as Budapest, Hungary. The Moors, also Mohammedans, invaded Europe through Spain and Southwest Europe in a vast and well executed, long range plan to conquer Christendom.
> The King of the principalities all over Europe furnished armies to help drive the Moors out of Spain and Hungary. They were finally successful in Spain during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, when they defeated the last of the Moors at the famous Castle, the Alhambra at Granada in 1274.
> There were many Moorish refugees, mostly women and children survivors, for whom the Rhein Queen felt a compassion. She imported many thousands of these destitute people to repopulate her own kingdom, thus leaving a darker shade among the many descendants of these people of the Rhineland area. They accepted the Catholic religion.
> Likewise, the blond Germans left many Teutonic blond traces in the population of northern Italy and Spain today.

Peter's father, Johann, was raising his family during the terrible Napoleonic wars. Invasions and occupations by foreign armies occurred over many years up to the battle of Waterloo. The surplus cash a family accumulated was safe, hidden only about their premises. Johann had his buried under the manger in the cow barn.

Madeline, one of Peter's sisters, was a beautiful girl and was the object of much attention by one soldier of the Napoleonic army of occupation. There was a well founded suspicion by Madeline's father that the whereabouts of his hidden wealth was known to this youth, which resulted in a very close watch being kept on both the money and the youth. One day the youth informed the girl that he would soon depart and would she give him a lock of her golden blond hair as a remembrance? This was the custom of those days and continued up to the time of my mother's girlhood. Departing with this lock of hair would have created a serious problem for Madeline, because the young men of her neighborhood would have soon learned of her interest in this soldier as the giving of a lock of hair meant a betrothal. Seeking the advice of her father, they devised a solution by cutting a lock off their sorrel horse's mane, which matched Madeline's hair quite well, putting it sealed in a small packet to prevent immediate detection of the ruse. Johann was very fortunate to think of a new hiding place for his money because the next day his hiding place was searched - unsuccessfully.

When Peter came to the United States he used his knowledge of masonry by hauling from his own farm 2 or 3 miles away the stone and making plaster for the foundations of the Capuchin Monastery in Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin, He helped to build the building.

The Monastery burned and was rebuilt sometime in the 1890's, but the records of Peter's death and those of his oldest son were destroyed in the fire. The stones he furnished are still in evidence in the basement structure of the present Capuchin Monastery and College for boys.

Peter had five sons, four of whom were of the age when they would soon be eligible for military service. This was the principal reason for immigrating to America. The suffering his family had gone through on account of wars during his life caused him to resolve that he would remove his sons from the country before they were old enough to serve in the army. They came to the United States during a great wave of German immigration to this country following the Napoleonic Wars. He was a true believer in his Catholic faith. Very democratic in principle as to his political views.

He left his oldest son, Matthias, and his wife on the farm. Nine years later the farm was sold and Matthias, his family and Joe, came to join the others in 1856. Joe John, the youngest of the brothers had also remained in Germany with his older brother's family as recorded in Hubert's diary.

They came across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel, taking six weeks to make the crossing, The vessel was overcrowded and many passengers died of disease on the way a ross. They finally arrived at Sheboygan, Wisconsin and walked thirty miles to Mount Calvary. They have described their experiences in letters found in Hubert's diary.

Peter bought land from the government near Mt. Calvary, covered with timber and started to clear the land, The farm consisted of one hundred and sixty acres. The country in Wisconsin was a vast timberland occupied by Indians and scattered white settlers. The land was cleared by falling the trees and burning both the trees and the stumps. Money was scarce and there was little sale for anything raised by the farmers on the few acres they had cleared.

My grandfather told me that he and his brothers put hot German pancakes in the seat of their pants in the winter to keep themselves warm on their way to school.

It is said that Peter's wife, Elizabeth Lambrich, was of French extraction and was a maid in the home of Peter's father before Peter married her. Elizabeth died when the youngest son, Joe, was very young.

The mother had died before Matthias left Germany, leaving Peter with five sons. At this date I have no further information of the mother, except that she was born December 1, 1798 in Kalenborn, Germany (in the Rhineland district near Coblentz) and died August 14, 1841.

Hubert, Matthias Joseph and John, when they became young men, were sent out by their father to work, as the farm was too small and too little land was cleared to support the family.

The three boys went to Illinois prior to 1856. I am told that they were in Chicago when that city was a mere village. There is a story related to me by Matthias Miesen (No. 105) as it was related to him by his father and mother. In my section of the life of Joseph John I refer you to another version of this story, part of which conflicts with some of the happenings as herin related. (The title of the other version written by Mae O'Guinn (No. 61) is "As I Remember Hearing It" which I will relate later.)

It was the father's desire that one of the boys come home to help as he was getting older and none of the boys were home except Joe (No. 21). However, none of the boys wished to come because they were learning a trade and making money. They drew lots to see who should go home - the drawing of the lot went against Hubert.

The boys had saved some money which they wished to send home to their father, $100.00 in all. Hubert, the second son, was entrusted with the money to take to his father. He sent a card to his father saying he was on his way home. It is known that he was last heard of in Chicago where he had stopped on his way home. He was never heard from and no one knew what became of him. Hubert was a lighthearted fellow given to having a good time. He may have, it is said, met up with bad company in Chicago and possibly been done away with for his money. The family advertised in newspapers in their effort to locate him at that time, but he was never heard from again.

At this time the Mormons were making up immigrant trains to their new settlements in Utah. They would welcome anyone to come along who could finance himself and be of help to the train where manpower was necessary to provide protection against hostile Indians. Many non-Mormons joined these immigrant trains. When they arrived in Utah they would continue on to California where the excitment of the gold rush was in full force. Hubert, being of an adventurous nature, could have done this. Hubert's sweetheart whom he was to marry on his arrival home, lived on a farm near his home place in Mount Calvary. She never heard from him. She remained on her family farm her whole life and never married. Her name was Catheryn Reider, a daughter of one of the families living on a farm near Mt. Calvary who had also immigrated from Eppenberg.

In 1912, George Miesen, who is one of my father's brothers, received a letter from a friend who had casually read an advertisement in a newspaper while riding on a train. It was an advertisement by the State of California for the heirs of a Miesen who had died there leaving no will or no known heirs. George did not investigate. An estate left unclaimed for 5 years in California reverts to the state.

M. J. Miesen then went home to his father when Hubert did not show up. Later Joe joined John in Illinois. Matthias J. was his name but he was always know as M.J.

M.J. Miesen and his wife Anna took care of his father for the last seven years of his life. During those seven years he was an invalid in a wheel chair. M.J. and Matthias spent their lives in Fond du Lac and near-by, which is where they originally settled.

Matthias Miesen, eldest son of Peter and youngest son Joe, who had remained in Germany on their father's farm, immigrated nine or ten years after his father in 1857. He came directly to Mount Calvary and took over the farm at Mount Calvary and started to clear more of the land.

The family of Matthias (No. 18) consisted of five children at that time, the youngest of which was Matthias (No. 105). The same Matthias whom I have referred to previously as having furnished me with much of the account.

When they arrived in Mount Calvary his youngest son, Matthias (No. 105) was but five months old. His mother told him of the trials of that boat trip across the ocean with a baby of five months. The trip is described in his letter to follow as recorded in Hubert Miesen's diary.

When Matthias grew up he bought what was left of the little farm that had been handed down from his grandfather to his father, Matthias. At that time there were but nineteen acres cleared.

"THE DIARY"

Cora Miesen (No. 62) Walter found a diary in her father's trunk (Joseph J. Miesen, youngest son of Peter) mostly written by Hubert, 3rd son of Peter.

It contained the following which was translated by the students and teacher of a high school German class in Judsonia, Arkansas. Mrs. Carl Wools (No. 273), daughter-in-law of Lula Miesen (No 64 - another daughter of Joseph J.) is a teacher in that high school and gave the translation to her mother-in-law, Lula.

The diary translated contains, aside from the translated text:

1. Information that Peter Miesen (No. 8) was a tax collector and road master in his district near Mount Calvary, Territory of Wisconsin.

2. What the duties of a tax collector were.

3. Letters of the English alphabet used in writing practice.

4. Copies of promissory notes and which were used by Hubert for his copy in learning to write English.

5. Some of the writing is in High German and also in Low German and in English, copied three ways. He evidently did this as practice in learning the English language.

6. He also copied a letter written for or by his father to Joseph Rieder of Eppenberg telling of his arrival from Germany and giving information as to directions in how to get to Wisconsin from Germany, etc.

7. Also a copy of a letter written about Matthias (No. 30) and his brother Joe John Miesen (NO.37) describing their trip across nine years after his father Peter and the other sons arrived.

8. It contained two little prayers which are very enlightening to me as to the sincere feeling of Hubert about his religion.

9. It also contains little problems in addition which he was evidently practicing.

10. It tells when he bought the diary book, from whom and how much he paid for it.

11. It gives his age and when he was born several times as if he were practicing English in writing it down in his diary.

The following is the translation. There were several workds misspelled and the letters were headed at the end instead of the beginning.

The name of the people from whom he purchased the notebook is printed on the cover.

This notebook belongs to Hubert Miesen of Eppenberg, born September 5, 1826, now twenty years of age. It was bought in Cochem on May 3, 1847. Cost 5 silver groschen.

NOTE: The following letter is by Peter (No. 8) and written for him by Hubert.

Addressed to Joseph Rieder, Eppenberg. December 26, 1847

On the 17th of June we left our home and went to Andernach, From there we went to Cologne on the 18th, and on the next day we took a train at Cologne which took us to Antwerp. There we went on board a ship which landed us at New York on August 12. We made the journey from New York to Albany by steamboat. From Albany to Buffalo we went by canal boat, (Erie Canal) a tedious trip which required eight days. The same trip by railroad takes only two days. On the 21st we left Buffalo by steamboat, with Milwaukee as our destination, and arrived there on the 25th. In Milwaukee we had a stopover of almost two weeks because of the many immigrants there. My oxen cost me 100 Prussian thaler, my wagon cost 71. With my family I arrived in Calumet on September 7. I bought a stove for cooking and baking. It is equipped with all the necessary cooking utensils and cost me 23 thaler.

I bought a farm of 160 acres from the Territory for 1.20 thaler per acre. Eighty acres in wood land, the remainder pasture and meadow land. I have built a fair sized home, 26 feet long and 18 feet wide, with a good gable roof. My plow, without the wheels, cost me 20 thaler. I see that the people here do not use wheeled plows.

There are 125 families in our county. Each family lives on its own farm. Wheat is usually harvested from the 12th to the 18th of each month of July. One bushel of wheat sells for 6 shillings, corn 2 1/2 and potatoes 2 1/2 shillings. If an immigrant comes here with 200 to 300 thalers, he has enough for a good start. If he has more than that he is well off, but one can get along with even less.

When someone from home comes here, have him bring me 16 yards of woolen goods and I will pay him one thaler per yard. Also ask him to bring me two good workcoats. I will pay him two dollars per coat upon delivery. If one plans to come here, he should make no definite traveling arrangements before coming to Antwerp. Transportation is least expensive about the first of June. Take the train from Cologne to Antwerp and be careful to take a steamboat from New York to Albany. From Albany to Buffalo it is much better to ride the train than the canal boat. We found the canal boat much slower and more expensive because of the charge for baggage. Be sure to take a big ship on the ocean crossing, at least a three master.

I got all my information from Kreiser, an agent in Antwerp. Anyone coming to Calumet will be landed at Sheboygan, I will meet him there with my wagon.

Hubert Miesen Now twenty years old

O Holy Mary, sinless one, pray for us who come to thee.

O Mary, refuge of sinners, intercede for us.

Peter Miesen sold his farm implements at auction held by the notary public for 1284 thaler. His furniture was sold at the same time for 1347. The money was deposited in the bank at Mayan, Peter Miesen of Eppenberg.

NOTE: (Matthias Miesen (No. 22) describes his trip from Eppenberg to the Wisconsin Territory, LEM) About 10 years after Peter, his father and three brothers had come to America as described above.

April 2, 1857 my two brothers Joseph (No.21) and Matthias (No. 22) left home to come over here. NOTE: This notation is by Hubert and seems to me indicates that Matthias and his younger brother Joseph came to America together.

June 25 at 4 pm we left home. The next morning we reached Neuwied where we set out for Cologne by train and arrived at Antwerp on the on the 28th at 9 O'clock in the morning. There we stayed until July 6, when we went on board our boat. The weather was so bad that we did not start our voyage across the ocean until July 16 at 2 pm. On the 8th, 9th and 10th of August we had storms. For a few days then we had fair weather, but on the 15th a severe storm came up and lasted more than a week and increased steadily in severity. I could not tell you what we went through. Late in the afternoon of the 26th the storm reached its height. We could neither sit up or stay in bed. The ship was tossed around like a ball. All we could do was to lie on the floor and pray. We prayed for an early end of the storm. The sky was covered with heavy black clouds. The thunderstorm was horrible from the first. All sails except two small ones near the front of the ship were taken down. These were torn to a thousand pieces before they could be hauled down. The ship literally was buried by the waves. Nobody was permitted to remain on deck. Once there was a terrible blow against one side of the ship which moved all furniture and luggage. With everybody screaming, the turmoil cannot be imagined. All we could do was to lie in the midst of our scattered belongings and cry out to God Almighty. When we had despaired of seeing the morning, the storm suddenly ceased. It was fortunate, for our ship was leaking in several places. We could have not held out much longer.

We had our first glimpse of America at 5 o'clock in the morning of September 2, Reached New York the next day, and on September 4th left New York by steamboat for Albany, reaching there on the 5th. The same day we took the train for Buffalo. From Buffalo to Milwaukee we took a steamer. We got to Milwaukee on the 15th and on the 21st arrived in Calumet, at Fredrick Bell's farm.

If a person who is coming over here is over 16 years of age, he should bring 50 pounds of hard bread, 15 pounds of salted or smoked meat, 10 pounds of rice or other grain, 12 pounds of flour, 6 pounds of butter, 2 pounds of salt and 2 quarts of vinegar.

I still owe 113 thaler to an agent in Antwerp. The whole fare is 146 thaler and I paid him only 33.

My father and my sister Hazel visited them in 1916 at Judsonia. They visited at their home for several days and were treated very kindly by them. When they left they were all fast friends.

Joe learned the blacksmith trade with his brother John in Perry, Illinois. For a time they were in partnership.

Joe married Harriet Hatfield of Perry, Illinois. Soon after they settled on a farm in Judsonia, Arkansas. Joe's wife Harriet died when quite young in life and left him with a family of five children to raise and he did a wonderful job of it.

Irene (my wife) and I visited them in May 1955. We found them to be just as my father said they were in 1916. They were so nice to us that we felt like we had known them intimately all our lives.

That is the way I have found every one of my relatives when I have visited them in different parts of the country.

On our way out to Robert Miesen's home where he lives with his mother and his wife Alma on his father's (Delbert) farm, we stopped to inquire at a neighbor adjoing their farm. We inquired about Joe Miesen and his family and he showed us where the farm was located.

He told of his personal acquaintance with Joe when he was a young man and how much he thought of Joe. He said everyone thought a great deal of him because of his honesty and upright character. Never had a criticism for anyone but always a good word and never lost his temper. He was a heavy set, stocky built blacksmith by trade, which he learned as an apprentice in Illinois.

He owned and lived on his farm all his life, but like his brother John, he was not a farmer, mechanics was his preference.

We were impressed by his old neighbor's eagerness to tell us so many good things about this man who had been dead 35 years -- a wonderful tribute.

We met his daughter-in-law, Lillian Meadows Miesen, her sons Robert and Delbert and their wives, Joe's daughter Lula Wools, her son Carl and his wife. Their friendly attitude toward us strangers (third cousins) when they had hardly known of our existence demonstrated their character. Furthermore, Robert drove 50 miles to Little Rock, Arkansas and back every day to work as a carpenter to enhance his income on the farm. There had been a severe drought for three years.

Joseph was a Baptist and very devout. Joseph and his brother John boarded with a Methodist minister in Jacksonville, Illinois while they were apprentices.

Joseph was a quiet natured man. He did not always agree with his brother John about politics. John was a Democrat, Joe was a Republican and there was at that time considerable diversity between the two political parties.

The following entitled "As I Remember Hearing It" was written by Joe's daughter, Mae O'Guinn (No. 61)

AS I REMEMBER HEARING IT

Joseph J. Miesen, Born March 2, 1840, was some 8 years younger than his brother John. Two little sisters were buried beside his mother, Elizabeth Miesen, in Germany.

According to what I have been told, Joseph came to this country with his father, Peter Miesen and his brothers - Hubert or Robert(they called him by both names), M.J. and John. The oldest brother, Matthias, remained in Germany and as the oldest son, received some acreage of the farm as was the custom there. Joseph came with his father. He did not remain there with his older brother as has been told. As the old diary stated, they went to Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin. The reason Peter Miesen decided to come to America was that Hubert had already served in the army in Germany and M.J. was at the age to enter. Joe was not yet old enough to go to school. Consequently, his schooling was meager as he did not attend much in Wisconsin. However, he wrote a beautiful hand.

Hubert helped our grandfather build a house and barn and clear land. He helped to put in a crop, using oxen. I have often heard my father and Uncle John talk about those years. There were many Indians there and they were so afraid of them at first, but soon found out that they were good neighbors. As the farm got in shape, Hubert went away to work. When Joe got older, M.J. and John joined Hubert down Illinois, where they all three worked - how long, I never heard them say. Time went by and Joe and his father worked the farm as best they could. M.J. had left a sweetheart in Wisconsin and he decided to come back. They later married. John met a fine girl and married at Perry, Illinois.

Hubert wrote that he was sending some money home to father and Joe. A neighbor was asked to bring the mail. He said there was a letter for them but they would have to pay to get it. Joe was sent by his father for it but was given no money to pay so he opened the letter to pay - then returned home and there wasn't the money in it Hubert said he was sending. Then Grandfather went to the office as he should have done in the first place and the postmaster said "Here are some bills I found on the floor." They never knew what became of part of the money. They never heard from Hubert again. My father, Joe always believed he was killed as he had always thought much of his father and Joe.

M.J. and his wife moved in with his father. Joe worked and cleared land (I saw the place owned by Peter Miesen when I was up there). The origianl farm is now divided and owned by three different people.

(By L.E.M.: There was little market for anything raised on a farm in Wisconsin in those days. Money was scarce, most trading was by barter. Every mouth to feed was a problem; when an animal on the farm died it was a calamity. In reading "As I Remember Hearing It," consider M.J. Miesen's predicament. He had been with his brothers some time in Perry, Illinois, before he returned home to help out his father and marry his wife Anna. He knew that his brothers were better off in Perry learning their trade while under apprenticeship. He, no doubt, considered Joe capable of making that long trek by foot, not an uncommon occurrence in those days. The bitterness toward their older brother M.J. by Joe and John is unfortunate. We must give M.J. credit for looking after his father, an invalid the last 7 or 8 years of his life.)

"As I Remeber Hearing It" - continued

One fall, M.J. told Joe he must leave as M.J. couldn't care for his father and Joe, too. Joe had worked all summer on the farm. M.J. asked him to leave. It was cool weather but he started walking down to Perry, Illinois to his brother John. He carried his few clothes, which were thin and outgrown. M.J. gave him two silver dollars to pay his expenses on the trip. There were no roads, just trails. He would walk until he would see a light at night. The folks would let him stay all night and feed him. He could hardly speak English as he had lived among Germans always. He said people were very kind and thought it was horrible to send out a boy in such a way. Someone gave him a coat, as he had outgrown his jacket. When he arrived in Perry, John and his wife took him in, although they had very little as they were just newly married. He said they were good to him.

Our grandfather's mind was rather bad and piece by piece the land was sold. Uncle John went back and tried to find out what was going on. On his trip to his father's home, he found the diary of Hubert and brought it back and gave it to Joe. Their father's mind was worse.

When Joe was grown he was ~~drafted~~ enlisted in to the army in the Civil War. He was in three years and was sent out west. He left what is now Kansas City. His company went as guards for an immigrant train. There was a long string of wagons drawn by oxen and horses. The soldiers rode as guards and scouted for Indians. He said he was glad to fight the Indians rather than to have fought in the war between the States.

He was at Provo, Utah, Salt Lake City, Camp Carson (now Carson City, Nevada), Ft. Douglas in Colorado and many other places. He had many narrow escapes. He told of rides for his life, of swimming the horses through swift water. He couldn't swim, so in deep water he would slip back on his horse, slide down and get the horse's tail and hang on. They spent lots of time in the saddle - a very hard life. They scouted alone, not in pairs. Wherever night overtook him was where he camped. His saddle was his pillow. After being discharged in Illinois, he made a trip to Wisconsin to see his father. He wanted so much to farm in Wisconsin and be with his father but there was no chance for that. He went back to Perry, Illinois. He had been treated so badly in Wisconsin and actually driven out of his home. A boy who had never been away from home before. He could scarcely remember his mother. He grew up a fine honest man, despising trickery and the trickster. He was in the shop with Uncle John for several years; married a fine girl and had a nice home there. They decided to go south, which was a mistake, as he was not cut out to be a southern farmer. He brought 7 horses with him and all died but one. She was our family horse until she died of old age.

I have written and only touched on a few things, as Uncle John spent part of several winters with us and they would talk of a night by the fireside. They surely enjoyed being together. Uncle John liked our mild winter. He dreaded Quincy, Illinois, in the winter. My father and mother had a good farm; raised everything they could - fruit, berries, grapes. Dad said a farm wasn't a farm unless it had those things. What fine grapes he raised!

We children were all born down south. Judsonia, a small town, was named for our Baptist missionary, Adoniram Judson. There was a University there, the Judson University. The road we lived on was called the "Yankee Road". Two thirds of our school district was made up of northern and eastern people. My father and mother had many fine friends. We early were taught the "Golden Rule". They took us to Sunday School and church - did not send us. Father was always a school director. He was so interested in all children going to school. I remember Dad rocking me to sleep. He always sang "He Leadeth Me". He had such beautiful dark eyes. Uncle John always said that he got them from their French mother. My mother's health failed and she passed away. Dell, the oldest, was 14; Elma, the baby, was 2 1/4. He kept us together somehow. He had great patience with us. Uncle John's wife and our mother's only sister, Aunt Ann Norris at Perry, Illinois, each offered to take the baby, but Dad said "No, we will all stay together".

My father donated his time for sick neighbors and for friendly acts to those in need. He always said "Charity begins at home" and his home always came first.

It seems that in every branch of the family there has been school teachers. My sisters, Cora and Elma, both taught; several of our nieces were teachers and others were office workers.

I didn't know I could remeber so many things. This is a very small part, even so. I think it only right for all to know that the money sent was Hubert's own. John and Joe never told any wrong tales. Our mother's long illness and caring for a bunch of children took it all. Uncle John siad, "Joe is too trusting - he thinks every one is as honest as he is". There were many owing him for work done in the shop who never paid him. He fought a good fight - now he is resting.

The following is an excerpt from a letter, dated December 4, 1957, written by Bonnalie Henderson Childress to John W. Miesen.

WHAT I LEARNED AS A CHILD FROM GRANDPA MIESEN

Grandpa Miesen's farm is dear to my heart and I love to go back and see the place when we go to Arkansas. When I was about three, my mother and father bought the farm from Grandpa Miesen and he lived there with us until he died.

It was the 160 acres he had homesteaded after coming from Illinois in a covered wagon. We had a 7 room white farmhouse - 4 rooms were built onto the original 3 rooms he had built. There was a big fireplace in the old part and Grandpa's room was one of the original rooms - the other was a big kitchen. He had built on a two story part, 2 rooms below and tow above and a long porch, screened in. So we had four bedrooms, a parlor, the big dining room where we sat after supper, the kitchen.

There was a blacksmith shop on the farm and I used to watch Grandpa work in it and work the bellows for him and also turn the grindstone.

He had a vineyard with all kinds of grapes, a granary for feed, a corn crib, a good sized barn. My Dad built a potato house to cure the potatoes in, a concrete chicken house, garage and cellar after we bought the place. Grandpa had a nice orchard. In fact, I believe we had everything on the farm anyone could have, to be self sustaining. My Dad was a great experimenter and one year he even had us grinding up peanuts and making our own peanut butter to eat. He raised strawberries for his main cash crop and some corn, cotton and grain, potatoes, watermelons, peanuts - anything that would grow that we could eat or sell. He was a doctor, too, and had his office there in the house.

After Grandpa Miesen died, my Dad's health was very bad - he had Bright's disease and he finally moved us to town and quit pratice of medicine for two or three years and had someone else move in and take charge of the farm. His own brother and family, but they didn't take care of things at all - at least not like my father had done - so we had a succession of families living on the place. My Dad finally went back to practicing medicine - I suspect now, because he had to, to help provide for us.

After he died, mother sold the farm and kept the house in town as she could not run the farm and I was already married and living in Montana at that time. Ruth was still in high school. I hated to see the farm pass out of our hands but there was nothing I could do, as Billy was only a tiny baby then and we were so far away.

The old house has burned down since, but the fireplace still stands and the springs are still flowing, but need cleaning out badly the last time I saw them 3 years ago.

I have many happy memories of the place and see it as ofter as we go to visit as it is just 1/4 mile north of where Dell Miesen's widow lives. Then Aunt Lou lives on north about 3 or 4 miles.

JOHN JOSEPH MIESEN (No. 17)

John Joe was the fourth son of Peter. He was born in Eppenberg, Germany, a small town about 50 miles from Bingham, on the Rhine, on September 27, 1832. He died at Quincy, Illinois at the home of his eldest daughter, Mrs. Lizzie Condat, on August 1, 1921, being 89 years old at the time of his death which was caused by the weakening of his vital organs caused by old age. He and his wife who died June 13, 1898, are buried at Forest Grove Cemetery near Boston, Barton County, Missouri.

After John left home with his brothers he became an apprentice in Jacksonville, Illinois where he served four years as an apprentice without pay as a woodworker and blacksmith in the building of buggies and wagons. While in Jacksonville, he married Mary Kemper on January 7, 1850.

They moved to Perry, Illinois where he built up a fine business building carriages and wagons and he became well fixed financially by hard work and attention to his business.

The wagon and carriage shop burned down. He carried no insurance and did not rebuild and decided to retire.

He moved his family to Boston, Missouri in 1883 where he bought a fine farm one and one-half mile south of Boston, known as the Gastel farm. My father, Joseph, was 17 years old when the family moved to Missouri.

John Joe at this time was close to 50 years old and the boys, Joe, George and Bob did the farm work. John Joe was a member of IOOF Lodge No. 76 of Perry, Illinois for over 50 years. Still in good standing when he died.

The children born as the result of the marriage of John Joseph Miesen and Mary Kemper are as follows and all being born in Perry, Illinois.

Lizzie	1857	Married	G.W. Condat	2/16/1884
Katherine	1859	"	J.W. Reynolds	2/18/1883

George	1/ 4/1868	"	Nattie Barnsley	1/25/1891
Robert	4/14/1870	"	Julia Crutchfield
Lilly Neota	6/ 6/1872	"	Alexander B. Corbett	11/27/1895	(in Boston, Mo.)
Esther Lena	1/ 6/1875	"	T.W. (Josh) Box
Mary Estela	7/15/1878	"	John Fonviler Tedder	12/ 5/1902

The family lived on the arm until they were all married.

He was about 15 years old when he came to America and became a naturalized citizen in Morgan County, Illinos, October 23, 1865.

My father lived on the farm of his father until I was five years old (1899) operating the farm for his father.

When my father left, the place was rented out for a number of years and was finally sold in about 1902 for $30.00 an acre. It was then and to this date is known as the best farm in the county.

Grandfather lived with his children, mostly with his eldest daughter Lizzie until his death.

He had plenty of money to take care of himself and did. In 1905, he loaned each of his children $500.00 and they were to pay him 6% interest until his death.

John and Joe Miesen while they were in Perry, Illinois became estranged from the other brothers, M.J. and Matthias, over the division of the inheritance when the father died. It seems they did not agree with the custom of the farm going to the eldest son.

The two eldest sons had however, remained home and, it is said, M.J. took care of his father for years. While his older brother had sold the home farm in Germany after making some arrangement with his father before the father came to America with the three younger boys. As I have stated before, Matthias was in Germany on the home farm nine or ten years before he came to the United States with his family. He then bought the farm in Mount Calvary, Wisconsin from his father. At that time there were nineteen acres cleared of timber - according to Matthias.

John and Joe did not seem to like the way things were settled anyway and they were so prejudiced against their brothers that they became completely separated, never writing home or informing their own children about their uncles and grandfather in Mount Calvary.

About this time they changed the pronunciation of their name. Their descendants have continued to pronounce their name as though it were spelled Meisen, sounding lke (my sin). All of the descendants from their brothers pronounce their name correctly lke Mee sen. The pronunciation rule there is (when I is befoe E, pronounce the E; when E is befor I, it is I). Therefore, the latter pronunciation as in Mee sen is correct.

At the same they discontinued to observe the Catholic religion and all of their children, descendants of John and Joe are Protestants. All of the other Miesens are of the Catholic religion, with some exceptions.

While the family was on the farm in the late eighties, one of their cousins visited them from Fond du Lac. His name was Matthias (No. 105), as I have before mentioned, about the same age as my father and he was the youngest son of Matthias who was the oldest son of Peter.

He stayed with my father's family all summer. He was the only cousin my father or his sisters and brothers ever met as far as I know - with the exception of the family of Joe in Judsonia with whom they visited many times.

They did not seem to know anything of their relatives in Wisconsin. They were in their teens when Matthias visited them.

Matthias returned home to Fond du Lac and in 1914 his oldest son John came to Chehalis, Washington to visit us.

He arrived late at night on a Saturday. In the morning at six o'clock he rolled out and went to Mass. We asked him why he was so strict in his religion. We, being Baptist, were not accustomed to that rigorous worship so early in the morning.

He stayed a few weeks and returned to his home. We enjoyed his visit very much. My father wanted to put him and me in business together, but there was too much rain in Oregon for John.

I visited John and his sister, Frances, in Chicago where they lived after I was discharged from the army in 1918. Frances and I have corresponded through our life since then and she has been to Oregon two times and I was in their home in Conde, South Dakota.

Through John, my father met his old friend and cousin back in Fond du Lac. Later in 1933 Irene and I visited them. We enjoyed our visit with them so much. We met some of their eleven children, William, Louis and Bertha. Bertha now lives in Fond du Lac and her name is Mrs. John Jelenski.

Matthias and his wife, Lena, were so jolly with each other. They were so congenial in their old age that we thought how wonderful it was for them to be together in their retirement. They furnished us with most of the information I have of his father, Matthias, and most of the meager information I have of the early family history. They referred me to John Hutter, who married a daughter of M.J. Miesen (Anne). He was, they said, able to give me more information.

In 1902, I remember my grandfather visited us while we lived at Doty, Washington. He wanted to buy a farm for my father but they could not agree on the farm to buy.

We went fishing together and picked wild blackberries. We would each get a gallon pail full every time we went for them. I was seven years old and was very fond of him - he was a fine grandfather. He had a sunny disposition and was fond of telling jokes and stories. However, if something displeased him he could be very stubborn and unforgivable.

Later, after I was discharged from the army after the Armistice in 1918, I visited him at his daughter's, Lizzie Condat, home in Quincy, Illinois. I was there three days and we had long talks together.

He was very democratic in his political beliefs and sympathetic with the problems of the underdog - who, as he said, had to do the fighting in the war and then come home (what was left of them) and pay the cost of the war in increased taxes.

He was never a religious person - I do not think he attended church at any time, so far as I can learn. He was low spoken and gentle natured and made what few words he had to say count. His word was law in his home. He never drank and never used profane language.

When he went on the farm in 1883, he let the boys do most of the farm work, Joe, George and Bob. He was not a farmer by nature, but he was a good businessman and, of course, a mechanic in his earlier days. He demonstrated this when he built up his wagon and buggy manufacturing business so sucessfully.

The burning of his factory and destruction of all the vehicles he had in stock by the falling in of a building (on account of heavy snow) in which they were stored previous to the fire, probably caused him to decide then to retire, which he did. He later felt his big mistake was that he did not rebuild the factory. His boys would have made a success of the business as they were well along in learning the business and seemed adapted in both mechanics and business.

After the farm was sold he spent his time with his children, who all were married before the farm was sold. He would divide his time living with his daughters, but spent more time with his oldest, Lizzie Condat, who was a widow for many years.

For many years he had his own horse and buggy to go wherever he wished to go. He always used a large umbrella. Mae O'Guinn, his niece, recalls seeing him walking across the field on his visits to her home in Judsonia with his large umbrella in his hand, well dressed and neat in appearance. He smoked a pipe.

He was practically retired for his last forty years and when he died left his heirs about $1,500.00 each. An immigrant with nothing to start with except a good father - he raised a family of nine children.

John Joe Miesen gained his citizenship October 23, 1856 in Morgan County. Illinois. Signed by Charles Hardin, Clerk of Morgan County Court. D. M. Tedder, 1912 Aldersgate Road, Rock Hill, S..C. has the naturalization papers framed. John signed his name Johann Meissen about the time he and his brother changed pronunciation of their name. They later spelled it the same as their brothers but pronounced it as in Meisen.

M. J. MIESEN (No. 22)

Born December 24, 1829. Died August 5, 1904. He was the second son of Peter. Married Mary Komers August 9, 1854.

He always went by the name of M.J. His name was Matthias Joseph. He no douht used the name of M.J. rather than Matthias, which was the same as his older brother with the addition of the middle name of Joseph. The older hrother had no middle initial.

M.J. reared a family of 13 children. I have met his daughters whose married names are Martena Schuster, Anna Hutter and Clara Barnes, age 85 at this date in 1961, living in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She is the last one of the family of M.J. now living. Martena died in 1959 (age 77) and Anna in 1958 (age 84) . The mother of this large family lived to be 96 and was a remakably active woman to the last, capable and adored by all of her children.

The first of the 13 children born to M.J. and his wife Mary was born in 1856, the last one, Martena, was born in 1882. A span of 26 years from the date of the first born. I repeat here what Martena wrote to me January 10, 1956 as follows:

> "I can give you very little information of my father's family, some of my older brothers and sisters were gone from home before I was born. I have nieces and nephews older than myself. I was 21 years old when my father died. My husband, John Schuster, died 7 years ago in 1949. I have three daughters; the oldest lives in Appleton, Wisconsin and is married. Esther and Agnes live here in Fond du Lac - both married. I have eight grandchildren.
> I was married at Mt. Calvary. My husband was from Mt. Calvary also. My mother and I lived there at the time. After a year we moved to Urbeno, Wisconsin, in Forest County, on a farm. We lived there 40 years, then sold the farm and moved to Fond du Lac. We had lived here 3 years when my husband died.
> I have 5 sisters living yet. Paulene Koehn Hoven, South Dakota, 88 years old. Veronica Bernard in North Dakota, 85, and Clara Barnes in Milwaukee, 79. Anna Hutter, 83, lives in Fond du Lac.
> My father provided well for his large family. We lived on a farm and my father was an insurance man and later when he got older they sold the farm and bought a home in Mt. Calvary.
> My mother, after my father's death, came to Fond du Lac and lived with my sister Clara Barnes." (End of Martena's letter)

The farm of M.J. known as the Chas. Blatz farm, joins Mt. Calvary east of the Cemetery. The Parish there is known as Holy Cross Parish.

Most of Peter's farm had previously been sold but M.J. took over what was left which was rocky and unproductive. The Blatz farm was a fine productive farm joining Mt. Calvary on its east and north boundary. The Cemetery is on the S.W. boundary of town.

M.J. organized the Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance at Mt. Calvary and managed it for many years. He was a leading citizen of the community and when anyone needed legal advice, M.J. was always ready and willing to help them.

He was very active, full of fun and intelligent. He was of medium stature but heavy set like his brothers. The children of this family resemble the other Miesens I have met. Raw boned, none of them over weight, and all the cousins, descendants of the four brothers, that I have met or have seen pictures of, have a family resemblance.

M.J. took care of his father for the last 8 years of his life - part of that time he was an invalid.

I read an account of the funeral of M.J. It was one of the largest ever held in Mt. Calvary. People came from miles around. He was very well known and had many friends.

His home still stands in Mt. Calvary and the Insurance Company, still doing business, is still in the same building. The old records in his handwriting are there to be seen.

His family plot is in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, where the grave of his wife and his own are situated.

MATTHIAS, FIRST SON OF PETER (No. 18)

No doubt the names of the 5 sons are going to be confusing to you.

The Matthias I refer to here is Peter's oldest son (No. 18) on the family tree. Born October 8, 1823, in Eppenberg, Germany; died in 1896 at Mt. Calvary, Wisconsin.

His wife's name was Margarite, born in 1821 in Germany; died in 1868 or 1870 in Mt. Calvary. They are buried in Mt. Calvary Cemetery in the Northwestern corner near that entrance to the cemetery in the same plot with his father, Peter and his youngest son John (No. 100).

They have a large headstone provided by his son Jonn before he died as a tribute to his father. The stone with the black oaken cross at the head of Peter's grave at the very entrance of this beautiful cemetery is very impressive and both look as well preserved as the day they were placed there.

His grandchildren are now living mostly in Fond du Lac, Wiscensin. They are the children of the youngest son Matthias (No. 105).

Nicholas (No. 103), his oldest son, lived most of his life in Detroit and died there leaving many descendants, some of which we were able to show on our family chart.

MATTHIAS MIESEN (No. 18)

Matthias (No. 18) was married when his father left Germany and all of his family of 8 children were born there. It was he who took over his father's (Peter) farm in Germany remained on it for 10 years until he disposed of it and came to Mt. Calvary, following his father and brothers in 1856, as mentioned in Hubert's diary where a letter written by Matthias (No. 18) is recorded by Hubert.

Even at that early date, social security was in effect in Germany and in Matthias's latter years he had some regrets that he had lost those benefit rights by immigrating to America.

Matthias' grandson (John W. Miesen, No. 266), now living in Portland, Oregon was only 7 years old when Matthias died and it is from John that I was able to get what meager information we have of Matthias.

Matthias's farm consisted of 40 acres, 19 of which were clear. His son, also named Matthias (NO. 105) whom I knew and have mentioned in these writings as the first to interest me in this undertaking, came home at the age of 32 years and bought his father's farm for $1,400.00 and, incidentally, added 80 acres adjoining and there raised his family of 12 children.

This happened about 1888. The son then married and the father lived for 8 years. He lived in Mt. Calvary Village, where he bought a little home and lived with his daughter Marguarite.

The last 5 or 6 years of his life he was sick with Asthma, but his son liiked after him and provided for him when his money was used up.

During the Civil War, Matthias was employed in the copper mines in Superior, Wisconsin. This work was hard and also injurious to the miner's health.

It is unforturnate that we do not have more information to hand down to you about the lives of our ancestors.
